AGRICULTURE APPROPRIATION BILL.

December 22, 1916,—Committed to the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Lever, from the Committee on Agriculture, submitted the following REPORT.

[To accompany H. R. 19359.]

The Committee on Agriculture begs to submit the following report, to accompany bill (H. R. 19359) making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918.

In the report which accompanied the appropriation bill for 1917 the committee discussed in detail the work conducted by the department under the various paragraphs in the bill. The work of the department since that time has made satisfactory progress along the lines indicated in that report. As this report is comparatively recent, the committee has not deemed it necessary at this time to set forth in detail the activities of the department and, accordingly, it has limited the discussion in the present report to changes made in the bill over the appropriation act for 1917.

The total sum carried by this bill for the Department of Agriculture is $25,694,685. This is an apparent decrease of $1,254,167 below the appropriation act for the current fiscal year, and a decrease of $600,222 below the estimates submitted by the department. The appropriation act for the fiscal year 1917, however, includes $3,000,000 for the purchase of lands under the Weeks Forestry Act, $2,000,000 of which will be available for expenditure during the fiscal year 1918. Excluding the $3,000,000, the present bill shows an increase over the act for 1917 of $1,745,833.

While the total carried by the bill is $25,694,685, the fact must not be lost sight of that one of the items—the appropriation of $1,250,000 for combating foot-and-mouth disease or other contagious or infectious disease of animals which may threaten the live-stock industry of the country—simply constitutes an emergency fund to be used only in case there is an outbreak of any of these diseases. In case there is no outbreak the fund will not be used and will be retained in the Treasury.

The increase carried in the bill over the appropriation for the present fiscal year, excluding the $3,000,000 for the purchase of lands under the Weeks law, is 0.7 per cent, as against an average increase of 8 per cent for the five preceding years.

The following table shows the appropriations for the present fiscal year, the estimates submitted by the various bureaus and offices to the Secretary of Agriculture, the estimates submitted by the Department of Agriculture to the committee, the amounts carried in this bill, the increases and decreases of the bill, as compared with the estimates submitted by the department, and the increases and decreases of the bill, as compared with the appropriation for the present fiscal year:

REVENUES.

In considering the above table it should be borne in mind that the appropriations of the Department of Agriculture are offset to some extent by certain revenues resulting from or incident to its activities. These revenues during the fiscal year 1916 amounted to $2,904,916.30, and were covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. They include the following items:

Receipts from national forests, $2,823,540.71.—The receipts from the national forests were derived from the following sources, and represent an increase of $342,071.36 over the year 1915:

(a) Timber, $1,412,592.51: Sales of all classes of stumpage on the national forests, payments for timber destroyed on rights of way or other uses, payments for timber cut or removed without previous permit, and damages assessed against persons setting fire to forest areas.

(b) Grazing, $1,210,214.59: Payments for grazing privileges on national forest ranges for cattle, horses, swine, sheep, and goats, and for unauthorized use of grazing areas.

(c) Special uses, $200,733.61: Payments for use of forest lands for various purposes, such as residences, camps, cabins, hotels, rights of way, agriculture, wharves, water power, telegraph and telephone lines, reservoirs, conduits, etc., and use of forest areas for turpentine extraction.

Under existing law 10 per cent of the forest receipts is expended by the Secretary of Agriculture in the construction of roads and trails, and 25 per cent of the forest receipts is paid to the States by the Federal Government for the benefit of county schools and roads. The amounts expended in or paid to each State during the fiscal year 1916 are shown below:

The States of Arizona and New Mexico received additional shares of national forest receipts for their school funds on account of school lands included within national forests, as follows: Arizona, $31,046.12; New Mexico, $10,329.

Sale of condemned and other property, $59,880.34.—This covers the sale of unserviceable property owned by the department, which has been passed upon, condemned, and ordered sold by a board of survey appointed by the Secretary. It also covers the proceeds derived from the sale of farm products grown on the various experiment farms of the department throughout the country (including insular stations): animals and animal products no longer needed in the work of the department; prints, lantern slides, transparencies, blue prints, forest maps, maps and publications of the Weather Bureau, card indexes of experiment-station literature, pathological and zoological specimens, samples of pure sugar, naval stores, microscopic specimens, etc.

Sale of hearings, $242.65.—This covers the sale of hearings conducted by the department in connection with the enforcement of the food and drugs act, the insecticide and fungicide act, and other activities of the department. These hearings are sold to corporations, firms, and individuals desiring them at the rate of 10 cents per folio, to cover the cost of preparing them.

Receipts from United States seacoast telegraph lines, $5,655.—These receipts are derived from the transmission of messages for private individuals over Weather Bureau telegraph lines through isolated regions along the seacoasts, where commercial lines are not yet available.

Sale of official cotton standards, $5,636.70.—This covers the sale of official cotton standards prepared by the Department of Agriculture to the various exchanges, spot-market dealers, merchants, cotton mills, agricultural colleges, and textile schools.

Receipts from settlement of disputes, $9,960.90.—These receipts are derived through the settlement of disputes referred to the department from time to time by either party to a contract of sale of cotton for future delivery for determination as to the quality, grade, or length of staple of the cotton, in accordance with the provisions of the United States cotton-futures act.

In the following pages the reasons for all increases in appropriations are given, and all changes in the statutory rolls are indicated.

GENERAL EXPENSES.

Inspection and quarantine (page 12, line 14).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $95,500, but, as $8,000 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $103,500.
This sum will be used as follows:

1. To meet the increased demand for tuberculin and blackleg vaccine, $3,500.

2. For the development of methods of eradicating tuberculosis among live stock, testing on a larger scale the methods which have proved efficient in controlling the disease on small areas, $75,000.

3. For the inspection and supervision of the disinfection of infected hides, skins, hair, wool, and other animal by-products with a view to prevent the introduction into this country of dangerous livestock diseases, $25,000. This sum was recommended by the Secretary of Agriculture in a supplemental estimate, which has been printed as House Document No. 1739, Sixty-fourth Congress, second session.

Tick eradication (page 12, line 24).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $840, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change. The words "for breeding purposes" have been omitted from the paragraph. This will prevent the use of any part of the appropriation for the purchase of animals for any purpose.

Dairy industry (page 13, line 13).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $101,460, but, as $15,560 has been transferred to the statutory roll, the actual increase is $117,020. This sum will be used as follows:

1. For the extension of the dairy farming investigations and demonstrations, $27,900.
2. For dairy manufacturing work, including creamery and cheese factory investigations, $35,500.
3. For dairy research work, $15,220.
4. For market-milk investigations, $23,400.
5. For the inauguration of work in the improvement of dairy products produced and consumed on the farm, $15,000.

Animal husbandry (page 13, line 17).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $41,980, but, as $11,820 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $53,800. This sum will be used as follows:

1. For studies of beef production in the corn belt, in cooperation with the Office of Farm Management, $2,500.
2. For farm sheep investigations, $3,800.
3. For farm sheep demonstrations, in cooperation with the State Relations Service and the agricultural colleges, $25,000.
4. For the extension of the pig-club work, $12,500.
5. For the extension of the poultry-club work, $10,000.

Diseases of animals (page 14, line 7).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $3,420, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Hog cholera (page 14, line 19).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $53,100, but, as $6,900 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $60,000. This sum will be used for the field hog-cholera work as distinguished from the work connected with the enforcement of the virus-serum-toxin act. The allotment for the current fiscal year for hog-cholera field work is $150,000. In addition there remains a balance of approximately $45,000 from the appropriation made by the act of February 23, 1914, so that a total of $195,000 is available for this purpose. With the additional $60,000 there will be available for the fiscal year 1918 $210,000, or only $15,000 more than the amount that will be expended for this work during the current year.

Dourine (page 15, line 9).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $24,000, but, as $1,000 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $25,000. New language has been added providing that $50,000 shall be immediately available, so as to allow the department to place inspectors in the field during the spring and early summer, when the work can be done most advantageously.
Administrative expenses (page 15, line 12).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $3,500, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

MEAT INSPECTION (page 15, line 17).

There is an apparent increase in this item of $157,120, but, as $6,860 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $163,980. Of this increase, $22,380 covers the transfer of 25 places from the statutory roll. The remaining $141,600 will be used for the employment of additional inspectors.

BUREAU OF PLANT INDUSTRY.

The statutory roll of the Bureau of Plant Industry carries an apparent increase of $1,140, but an actual decrease of $15,040, as indicated in detail in the following table:

Transfers from lump funds of this bureau, which funds have been correspondingly reduced:

1 clerk, class 1, from pomological investigations .......... $1,200
1 clerk from pomological investigations .......................... 1,000
3 clerks, at $800 each, from forest pathology, economic and systematic botany, and forage-crop investigations .......... 2,700

GENERAL EXPENSES.

Plant-disease investigations (page 18, line 12).—There is an increase in this item of $24,000, which will be used as follows:
1. For extending the investigations relating to the control of root rot and similar tobacco diseases, $6,000.
2. For investigating a widespread bacterial disease of sweet corn, known as "Stewart's disease," $5,000.
3. For investigating a new bacterial disease of wheat found in Kansas during the past year, $3,000.
4. For the organization and maintenance of a plant-disease survey, $10,000. New language authorizing this work has been added to the paragraph.

Fruit-disease investigations (page 18, line 15).—There is an increase in this item of $7,800, which will be used as follows:
1. For investigating the cause of cranberry rot, $1,000.
2. To develop methods for the control of fruit rots and spots, and to extend the work on prune and cherry diseases, $3,800.

Citrus canker (page 18, line 17).—There is an increase in this item of $180,000. This sum is made immediately available so as to enable the department to continue the campaign against citrus canker during the current fiscal year, the funds carried in the appropriation act for 1917 being insufficient for that purpose. New language has been added requiring, in the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture, contributions or appropriations by State, county, or local authorities, or by individuals or organizations, as a condition precedent to the expenditure of the $250,000 provided for the fiscal year 1918.

Forest pathology (page 19, line 11).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $1,260, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Cotton and truck diseases (page 19, line 18).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $23,800, but, as $1,200 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $25,000. This amount will be used as follows:
1. For testing and perfecting methods of controlling fungous diseases of watermelons, $5,000.
2. For investigating tomato phoma rot, lettuce drop, and celery leaf blight, soft rot, and heart rot, $5,000.
3. For inaugurating investigations upon tomato diseases in the trucking districts, $5,000.
4. For the development of the truck-crop extension work in the North and West in cooperation with the States Relations Service, $3,000.
5. For investigating various bean diseases and for promoting the propagation and distribution of disease-free seed, $5,000.
6. For investigating alfalfa crown wart, alfalfa yellows, clover sickness, and the various rots, leaf spots, and other diseases of forage plants, $2,000.

Five thousand dollars has been made immediately available so as to enable the department to conduct work relating to destructive truck-crop diseases during the winter and spring of 1918.

Crop physiology (page 19, line 21).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $480, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.
Soil bacteriology (page 19, line 23).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $2,700, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Soil-fertility investigations (page 20, line 5).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $1,440, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Crop acclimatization and fiber-plant investigations (page 20, line 10).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $32,430, but, as the fiber-plant investigations now conducted under the item for “Crop technology and fiber-plant investigations,” with the accompanying allotment of $7,430, has been transferred to this paragraph, there is an actual increase of $25,000. This sum will be used for enlarging the fiber-plant investigations, with a view to determine the feasibility of increasing the production of hard fibers outside of the Continental United States. New language has been added specifically authorizing the inclusion of this work under this paragraph.

Drug-plant, poisonous-plant, physiological, and fermentation investigations (page 20, line 16).—There is an increase in this item of $5,000, which will be used in enlarging the study of the biochemical basis of disease immunity in plants.

Crop-technology investigations (page 20, line 20).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $830, but, as $7,430, the present allotment for fiber-plant investigations, has been transferred to the item for crop-acclimatization investigations, there is an actual increase of $6,600. This amount will be used in extending the scope of the investigations with reference to the relationship of the different species of nematodes to agricultural operations.

Seed testing (page 20, line 24).—There is an increase in this item of $3,000 to enable the department to provide for the additional work necessitated by the amendment of the seed-importation act carried in the appropriation act for 1917.

Cereal investigations (page 21, line 11).—There is an increase in this item of $12,000, which will be used as follows:
1. For enlarging the field studies of the best methods of producing wheat, rye, and barley, $4,000.
2. For investigating conditions under which the usual seed treatments will not prevent bunt or stinking smut of wheat, and to extend the application of seed treatments in regions where they may be most effective, $4,500.
3. For extending the work relating to the production of cereals in the South, $3,500.

Tobacco investigations (page 21, line 22).—There is an increase in this item of $4,500. This sum will be used in developing methods for eliminating the losses of tobacco resulting from weather conditions.

Paper-plant investigations (page 21, line 24).—There is an increase in this item of $5,920. This sum will be used for installing a flax-tow machine for the purpose of determining the comparative commercial value of flax tow as a material for paper making.

Alkali and drought resistant plant investigations (page 22, line 3).—There is an increase in this item of $2,000, which will be used for extending the work in the breeding of drought-resistant field crops and in completing tests of new strains of alfalfa and brome grass.
Sugar-plant investigations (page 22, line 5).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $1,520; but as $480 has been transferred to the statutory roll and as the chemical investigations of table-sirup manufacture, carrying an allotment of $4,000, have been transferred from this item to the Bureau of Chemistry, there is an actual increase of $9,000. This sum will be used as follows:

1. For the extension of the experimental work with cane sirup, $1,500.
2. For economic and technical investigations as to the status of the sorghum industry, $5,000.
3. For experimental work in the control of the sugar-beet nematodes, $1,000.
4. For investigating, in cooperation with the Bureau of Entomology, the curly-top disease of sugar beets, $1,500.

The language of the paragraph has been amended so as to include the sorghum investigations and to exclude the chemical investigations, which are transferred to the Bureau of Chemistry, as indicated above.

Investigations in economic and systematic botany (page 22, line 18).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $900, but as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll there is actually no change.

Dry-land agriculture investigations (page 22, line 21).—There is no change in the amount of this item, but the language has been amended in the interest of clarity.

Pomological investigations (page 23, line 13).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $2,860, but as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll there is actually no change.

Horticultural investigations (page 24, line 1).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $6,660, but as $840 has been transferred to the statutory roll and as the work connected with the propagation and cultivation of bulbs, carrying an allotment of $7,500, has been transferred from the item for the “Purchase and distribution of valuable seeds,” there is actually no change.

Arlington farm (page 24, line 5).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $6,900, but as $600 has been transferred to the statutory roll there is an actual increase of $7,500. This sum will provide for the expenses incident to the utilization of 60 additional acres of recently reclaimed land on the Arlington experimental farm.

Foreign seed and plant introduction (page 24, line 12).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $22,640, but as $360 has been transferred to the statutory roll there is an actual increase of $23,000. This sum will be used as follows:

1. For developing methods for the protection of new plant introductions and for their propagation under conditions designed to prevent the entry of new and dangerous plant diseases and insect pests, $8,500.
2. To provide necessary buildings at the Miami, Fla., field station, $2,500.
3. For enlarging the facilities at the Chico, Cal., station, $2,000.
4. For the establishment of a plant-introduction field station at Bellingham, Wash., $10,000.

Purchase, testing, and distribution of new and rare seeds, and forage-crop investigations (page 24, line 19).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $1,740, but as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll there is actually no change.

PURCHASE AND DISTRIBUTION OF VALUABLE SEEDS (page 25, line 10).

There is an apparent decrease in this item of $8,820, but as $1,320 has been transferred to the statutory roll and $7,500 to the item for horticultural investigations, as already explained, there is actually no change in the amount for seed distribution.

FOREST SERVICE.

There is an apparent increase in the statutory roll of $86,600, but an actual increase of $960, as indicated in detail in the following table:

Promotions:
1 chief of office of accounts and fiscal agent from $2,500 to $2,620—$120
7 district fiscal agents from $2,000 each to $2,120 each—$840

Actual increase—$960

Transfers from lump funds of this bureau, which funds have been correspondingly reduced:
1 inspector of records, from general administration—$2,400
1 clerk, from general administration—1,400
22 clerks, at $1,200 each—19 from national forests, 2 from general administration, and 1 from survey of lands—26,400
6 clerks, at $1,100 each—5 from national forests and 1 from agricultural land classification—6,600
2 clerks, at $1,020 each, from national forests—2,040
11 clerks, at $900 each—6 from national forests, 2 from maintenance and supplies, 1 from agricultural land classification, 1 from survey of lands, and 1 from forest products—9,900
1 draftsman or surveyor, from survey of lands—1,800
2 draftsmen or surveyors, at $1,600 each, from agricultural land classification—3,200
12 draftsmen or surveyors, at $1,500 each—6 from agricultural land classification and 6 from survey of lands—18,000
3 draftsmen, at $1,400 each, 2 from survey of lands and 1 from agricultural land classification—4,200
2 draftsmen, at $1,200 each, from agricultural land classification—2,400
4 draftsmen or map colorists, at $900 each, from agricultural land classification—3,600
1 carpenter, from forest products—1,000
3 laboratory aids and engineers, at $900 each, from forest products—2,700

Apparent increase—$6,600

GENERAL EXPENSES.

_National forests (page 32, line 3)._—There is an apparent increase in the items for the individual forests and for the general administrative expenses connected therewith of $16,060, but, as $41,940 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $58,000. There have been a number of adjustments in the appropriations for the individual forests, increases being made in some cases and decreases in others, and five forests being eliminated through consolidation with other forests. The increase will be used as follows:

1. For the employment of additional short-term lookouts, patrolmen, and guards for fire protection, $27,400.

2. For additional scalers and for expenses incident to the increased timber sales, $22,200.

3. For additional grazing examiners, $8,400.

New language has been added to the item for the Nebraska National Forest (page 35, line 22), authorizing the department to acquire two small tracts of land needed in carrying on the nursery work provided by the paragraph.

The following new language has been added to the item for additional national forests to be created under the Weeks Forestry Act (page 39, line 11):

Provided, That hereafter all moneys received on account of permits for hunting, fishing, or camping on lands acquired under authority of said act, or any amendment or extension thereof, shall be disposed of as is provided by existing law for the disposition of receipts from national forests.

It may be appropriate at this point to call attention to the fact that the receipts from the national forests for the fiscal year 1916 were greater than for 1915 by $342,071.36, and totaled $2,823,540.71. There was an increase in timber receipts of $237,458.56; in grazing receipts of $79,719.59; in water-power rentals of $12,145.88; and in receipts from other sources of $12,747.33.

Classification of lands for homesteads (page 40, line 17).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $21,600, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Entry surveys (page 40, line 21).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $15,700, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Supplies and equipment (page 41, line 16).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $10,700, but, as $1,800 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $12,500. This sum will be used for the purchase of additional equipment and supplies for the forest products laboratory.

Forest products (page 41, line 19).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $20,400, but, as $4,600 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $25,000. This sum, with the new language added to the paragraph, makes provision for demonstrations on a commercial scale of the results of laboratory investigations with forest products.

National-forest range investigations (page 42, line 4).—There is an increase in this item of $5,000, which will be used in extending the grazing and range investigations.

Reconnaissance (page 42, line 17).—There is an increase in this item of $10,000, which will be used as follows:

1. For additional range reconnaissance, $6,000.

2. For the examination and appraisal of additional areas under application for timber sales, $4,000.

Permanent improvements on national forests (page 43, line 1).—There is an increase in this item of $50,000. This sum, with the new language which has been added to the paragraph, makes provision for the construction and maintenance of boundary and drift fences, stock driveways and bridges and counting corrals, and for the development of stock-watering places.

Weeks law administrative expenses in Washington (page 43, line 23).—The language of this paragraph has been amended so as to increase by $10,000 the amount which may be expended in Washington for the administration of the Weeks Forestry Act and to authorize the transfer to Washington of some of the experienced title attorneys in order to facilitate the acquisition of lands under the act.

Utilization of mineral resources of lands acquired under the Weeks law (page 44, line 12).—In order to insure the permanency of this provision, the word “hereafter” has been inserted.

BUREAU OF CHEMISTRY.

There is an apparent increase in this item of $47,520, but an actual increase of $16,140, as indicated in detail in the following table:

Promotions:
1 executive clerk, from $2,000 to $2,120 . $120
1 food and drug inspector, from $2,000 to $2,120 . $120

GENERAL EXPENSES.

Poultry and eggs investigations (page 47, line 12).—There is an increase in this item of $10,000, which will be used for extending the demonstrations of methods of handling, packing, storing, and shipping of poultry and eggs and for laboratory research work.

Fish investigations (page 47, line 18).—There is an increase in this item of $4,600. This sum will be used for extending the investigations relating to the handling and shipping of fish.
Biological investigations (page 48, line 1).—There is an increase in this item of $3,000, which will be used for investigating the nutritive value of a number of stock feeds.

Citrus by-products (page 48, line 5).—There is an increase in this item of $4,920. This sum will be used for investigations relating to the utilization of citrus by-products and for investigating and developing methods for determining maturity in fruits and vegetables, the latter work being specifically authorized by the addition of new language.

Color investigations (page 48, line 10).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $600, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change. New language has been added authorizing repairs, alterations, improvements, or additions to a building on the Arlington experimental farm used in connection with the investigations.

Investigation of the manufacture of table sirup (page 48, line 15).—This appears as a new item at this place. The work, however, is now done under the sugar beet and table sirup item in the Bureau of Plant Industry, as already explained. There is no change in the amount involved.

Enforcement of the food and drugs act (page 48, line 17).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $9,450, but, as $35,630 has been transferred to statutory rolls, there is an actual increase of $26,200. This sum will be used to provide for the normal development of the inspection work, to meet the continued advance in the price of chemicals and chemical apparatus, and to provide for the increased work under the net weight and Sherley amendments to the food and drugs act.

BUREAU OF SOILS.

STATUTORY SALARIES (page 49, line 18).

There is an apparent increase in this item of $2,340, but an actual increase of $120, as indicated in detail in the following table:

GENERAL EXPENSES.

Chemical investigations (page 50, line 19).—There is an increase in this item of $5,000, which will be used as follows:

1. To enlarge the facilities for making chemical analyses of soils required in connection with the soil-survey work, $2,000.
2. To meet the increased demand from other bureaus of the department for routine analytical work, $1,000.
3. To extend the investigations in the liming of soils, $2,000.
Investigations of fertilizer resources (page 51, line 6).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $2,220, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Soil-survey investigations (page 51, line 9).—There is an increase in this item of $30,000, which will be used for extending the soil-survey work.

Potash investigations (page 51, line 20).

No appropriation is included in the bill for this work, but a paragraph has been inserted making available, until expended, the unexpended balance of the appropriation of $175,000 included in the appropriation act for the fiscal year 1917.

Bureau of Entomology.

Statutory salaries (page 52, line 7).

There is an apparent increase in this item of $3,500, but an actual increase of $500, as indicated in detail in the following table:

Apparent increase 3,500

General expenses.

Deciduous fruit-insect investigations (page 53, line 14).—There is an increase in this item of $17,600, which will be used as follows:

1. To enlarge the work with chestnut weevils and miscellaneous nut insects, $2,600.
2. To establish a field laboratory in the Ozark Mountain region of Arkansas, $5,000.
3. To establish a field station in one of the New England States for work in connection with the apple-tree tent caterpillar, $8,000.
4. To enlarge the work on insecticides, $2,000.

Cereal and forage insect investigations (page 53, line 16).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $8,600, but, as $1,400 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $10,000. This sum will be used in conducting special investigations with reference to the Hessian fly.

Southern field-crop insect investigations (page 53, line 19).—There is an increase in this item of $10,000. This sum will be used for investigational work relating to the cotton-boll weevil.

H. Rept. 1248, 64-2—2
AGRICULTURE APPROPRIATION BILL.

Truck-crop and stored-product insect investigations (page 53, line 24).—There is an increase in this item of $5,000, which will be used for extending the investigations, in cooperation with the Bureau of Plant Industry, in the control of the insect carriers of plant diseases.

Miscellaneous insect investigations (page 54, line 11).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $1,600, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY.

Statutory Salaries (page 55, line 15).

There is an apparent increase in this item of $2,240, but an actual increase of $1,200, as indicated in detail in the following table:

Change of title: 1 clerk, $1,900, in lieu of 1 chief clerk, $1,900.

General expenses.

Road management investigations (page 70, line 20).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $1,500, but, as $2,500 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $4,000. This sum will be used in the study of State highway systems and in obtaining information which will be of service to the Federal Government and to the States in connection with the Federal-aid road act.

Road building and maintenance investigations (page 70, line 23).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $1,000, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.
Road-material investigations (page 71, line 3).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $13,440, but, as $1,560 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $15,000. This sum will be used to meet the increased demand for tests of road-building materials incident to the administration of the Federal aid road act.

Farm irrigation investigations (page 71, line 14).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $960, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Farm drainage investigations (page 72, line 3).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $960, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Special rural engineering problems (page 72, line 18).—There is an increase in this item of $5,000 to extend the investigations of farm engineering problems. New language has been added authorizing the erection outside of the District of Columbia of structures, such as septic tanks, water troughs, hydraulic ram pits, etc., for experimental purposes only.

Administrative expenses (page 73, line 1).—There is an increase in this item of $3,400, which will be used to provide for the large increase in the general administrative work.

Erection of laboratory building at Arlington (page 73, line 4).—This is a new item. It appropriates $75,000 for the erection and equipment of a laboratory building on the Arlington farm for permanent quarters for the testing and research work of the Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering.

BUREAU OF MARKETS.

The name of the Office of Markets and Rural Organization is changed to Bureau of Markets.

STATUTORY SALARIES (page 73, line 15).

Apparent increase: $68,440

GENERAL EXPENSES.

Marketing and distribution (page 74, line 20).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $4,400, but, as $5,600 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $10,000. This sum will be used to enable the department to extend to several additional crops the investigations relating to the establishment of market grades and standards.

Market news service (page 75, line 3).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $48,140, but, as $22,860 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $71,000. Of this sum, $40,000 is made immediately available, so that it may be used in connection with certain crops whose commercial movement will begin before the end of the present fiscal year. The remaining $31,000 will be required during the fiscal year 1918 properly to carry on the work as conducted during the present fiscal year.

Market reports on live stock and meats (page 75, line 8).—There is an increase in this item of $1,800 to provide for the employment of additional clerical assistance.

Cotton standardization (page 76, line 1).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $5,000, but, as $660 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $5,660. This sum will be used for the purpose of conducting moisture tests.

Rural cooperation (page 76, line 10).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $2,100, but, as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

State cooperation in marketing (page 76, line 19).—There is an increase in this item of $8,000. This sum will be used in cooperating with additional States which will have funds available for the purpose.

Grain standardization investigations (page 76, line 24).—This item has been transferred from the Bureau of Plant Industry. The language has been amended so as to eliminate the authority to fix standards. There is an apparent increase in the item of $17,820, but as $3,060 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $20,880. This sum will be used to facilitate the investigations looking to the determination of the standards required under the grain-standards act.

Administrative expenses (page 77, line 1).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $605, but as $13,960 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $14,565. This sum will provide for the increased administrative expenses incident to the enlarged activities of the bureau.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE COTTON-FUTURES ACT.

Enforcement of the cotton-futures act (page 77, line 5).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $22,150, but as $2,240 has been transferred to statutory rolls, there is an actual decrease of $19,910.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE UNITED STATES GRAIN-STANDARDS ACT.

Enforcement of the United States grain-standards act (page 77, line 14.)—This appears as a new item under the Bureau of Markets. However, the grain-standards act, which was included as part B of the Agricultural appropriation act for 1917, carried an appropriation of $250,000, so that there is an apparent increase for the enforcement of the grain-standards act of $269,140; but, as $2,200 has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is an actual increase of $271,340. This sum is needed in order to provide the requisite machinery for the prompt and effective handling of the work involved in the administration of the act.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE UNITED STATES WAREHOUSE ACT.

Administration of the United States warehouse act (page 77, line 21).—This appears as a new item under the Bureau of Markets. However, the United States warehouse act, which was enacted as part C of the Agricultural appropriation act for 1917, carried an appropriation of $50,000, so that there is an actual increase of $9,620. This sum will be required for the proper administration of the act.
There is an apparent increase in the statutory roll of $480, but no actual increase, as indicated in detail in the following table:

Transfer from lump fund of this office, which fund has been correspondingly reduced:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1 messenger boy or laborer</th>
<th>$480</th>

</tbody>
</table>

Change of title:

| 1 messenger boy or laborer, $480, in lieu of 1 messenger boy | $480 |

Enforcement of the insecticide act (page 78, line 16).—There is an apparent increase in this item of $7,020, but as $480 has been transferred to the statutory roll there is an actual increase of $7,500. This sum will permit the examination of a larger number of samples of insecticides and fungicides and will enable the department to meet the increased cost of chemicals and other materials used in the work.

FEDERAL HORTICULTURAL BOARD.

Statutory Salaries (page 79, line 5).

There is an apparent increase in the statutory roll of $6,860, but no actual increase, as indicated in detail in the following table:

Transfers from lump fund of this board, which fund has been correspondingly reduced:

| 1 clerk class 4                           | $1,800 |
| 2 clerks, at $1,000 each                 | 2,000  |
| 3 clerks, at $900 each                   | 2,700  |
| 1 messenger boy                          | 360    |

Apparent Increase........................................................................... 6,860

GENERAL EXPENSES.

Enforcement of the plant-quarantine act (page 79, line 17).—There is an apparent decrease in this item of $6,860, but as that amount has been transferred to the statutory roll, there is actually no change.

Pink boll worm of cotton (page 80, line 3).—This is a new item and carries an appropriation of $50,000. It was recommended by the Secretary of Agriculture in a supplemental estimate. Since the regular estimates were submitted, the pink boll worm has been discovered in the Laguna district of Mexico. This appropriation will enable the department to take appropriate measures to prevent the introduction of the pest into the United States or to insure its prompt elimination if it is found to have entered.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Experiments in dairying and live-stock production in semi-arid and irrigated districts (page 82, line 20).

There is a decrease in this item of $16,396.
This paragraph carries no appropriation. The amount authorized to be expended for the purchase, maintenance, repair, and operation of passenger-carrying vehicles and motor boats is increased by $15,000, of which $3,000 may be expended in the purchase of such vehicles. A new paragraph has been added authorizing the exchange of old vehicles in part payment for new vehicles.

There is no change in the amount carried by this paragraph. The language has been amended so as to make available during the fiscal year 1918 the unexpended balance of the appropriation of $2,500,000 included in the appropriation act for the fiscal year 1916.

A new paragraph has been added authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to designate officers, agents, and employees of the Department of Agriculture to administer oaths for use in the prosecution of cases arising under the laws intrusted to the department for administration. The purpose of this item is to decrease the cost of preparing cases for prosecution and to eliminate to a considerable extent the delay now experienced in getting them into court.

A new paragraph has been added providing, during the fiscal year 1918, increased compensation for employees of the Department of Agriculture, as follows:

1. Ten per cent for employees receiving salaries or wages at a rate per annum less than $1,200.
2. Five per cent for employees receiving salaries or wages at a rate of not more than $1,800 per annum and not less than $1,200 per annum.

It is estimated that this paragraph will involve approximately 12,000 employees, and that it will require approximately $900,000 to put it into effect during the fiscal year 1918.
